Rest: 2-3 min. | No warm-up set

HOW

- Hips back, flat back
- Bar close to the legs

WHY THIS EXERCISE, WHY HERE

Lower day is hinge and glute focused, so the RDL goes first. It builds the back of the legs and glutes, the area you're most self-conscious about.

If busy: 1) Dumbbell RDL 2) Dumbbell Romanian deadlift

Block B swap (week 6+): Stiff-leg Smith deadlift

First exercise: ramp with the empty bar.

Watch demo >

2 Hip thrust

Top set	8, failure	55 kg (121 lb)
Back-off	15	40 kg (88 lb)

Rest: 2 min. | No warm-up set

HOW

- Chin tucked, ribs down
- 1 sec pause at the top

WHY THIS EXERCISE, WHY HERE

Direct glute shape.

If busy: 1) Hip thrust machine 2) Glute bridge, barbell

Hamstrings at the knee, which complements the RDL's work at the hip.

ADVANCED (WEEKS 3-4)

Last set: lengthened partials, 5 half-reps at the stretch.

Block B swap (week 6+): Lying leg curl

Rest: 60 sec. | No warm-up set

HOW

- Round down, squeeze glutes up

If busy: 1) Cable pull-through 2) Good morning, light barbell

ADVANCED (WEEKS 3-4)

Last set: hold 2 sec at the top every rep.

Block B swap (week 6+): 45-degree back extension, weighted

ADVANCED (WEEKS 3-4)

Last set: 10 full reps, then partials to failure.

How a set works

- Weeks 1-2 (Basic): do the sets as written. Last set of every exercise ends 1 rep short of failure.
- Weeks 3-4 (Advanced): same sets, plus the purple technique on each card on the last set only.
- Machines and cables: the last set goes to true failure, the rep you can't finish.
- Barbell squat, bench, RDL: always 1 rep short. Never grind these.
- Progress: top set hits the top of its range, add 2.5-5 kg next time.
- Pairs: do A, then B, then rest, repeat. Rest 60-90 sec unless the card says more.
- Week 5: deload: same exercises, 60% weight, half the sets. Weeks 6-9: Block B swaps.
