Daily system

Every day, two minutes. That's all the admin this needs.

1. Weigh in

EVERY MORNING

- After the toilet, before water or food
- Same scale, same spot, minimal clothes
- Log weight and last night's sleep (from your Fitbit) in the tracker
- Don't react to one number. Only the 7-day average counts

Your Fitbit

WEAR IT 24/7

- Steps: your 10k target. Check it at 7 pm; if short, walk after dinner
- Sleep: 7 h or more ticks the sleep ring automatically
- Resting heart rate: if it climbs 5+ beats above normal for 3 days, you're under-recovered. Sleep more, keep the deload honest
- Before bed: enter today's steps and tick the rest

2. Why the daily number jumps

DON'T PANIC

- Salty dinner, wedding food, more carbs: +0.5 to 2 kg of water the next day
- Hard leg day: muscles hold water for 2-3 days
- Constipation or poor sleep: up a little
- These are not fat. Fat moves slowly; the average shows it

3. The 5 non-negotiables

TICK THEM IN THE TRACKER

- 10k steps (8k in week 1)
- 240 g protein: 2 palms each meal plus shakes
- No carbs at dinner: protein and vegetables only
- 7 hours sleep
- Training done, or a proper rest day on Sunday

4. Sunday check-in

10 MINUTES

- Tracker, More tab: tap 'Copy check-in for Claude' and paste it into this chat. Fill in the notes. You get coached on real numbers
- Read your 7-day average in the tracker
- Compare to this week's target in file 2
- Tape your waist (navel and love handles)
- Photos every second Sunday
- Read your 'why'

The live tracker

A 4-screen app on your phone. Today: animated rings for your 5 non-negotiables, the log, today's session and food. Progress: journey rings, the line to 85, milestones, Sunday checkpoints. Calendar: all 73 days coloured by score, and your streak. More: history, the Sunday check-in for Claude, and backup.

Open the tracker >

- iPhone: open it in Safari, tap Share, then 'Add to Home Screen'.
- It saves your entries for you. Export a backup from the tracker every Sunday, just in case.
